

Thecorpora guarantees the client that the hardware components included in the acquired product will not be faulty for one year, starting from the day the product was delivered. The guarantee offered for the product applies to the good state of the product and it does not cover faults or flaws due to damage caused by abuse, accident, misuse, negligence, alteration, repair, disaster, incorrect installation or unsuitable testing nor the wear and tear from ordinary use of the product.

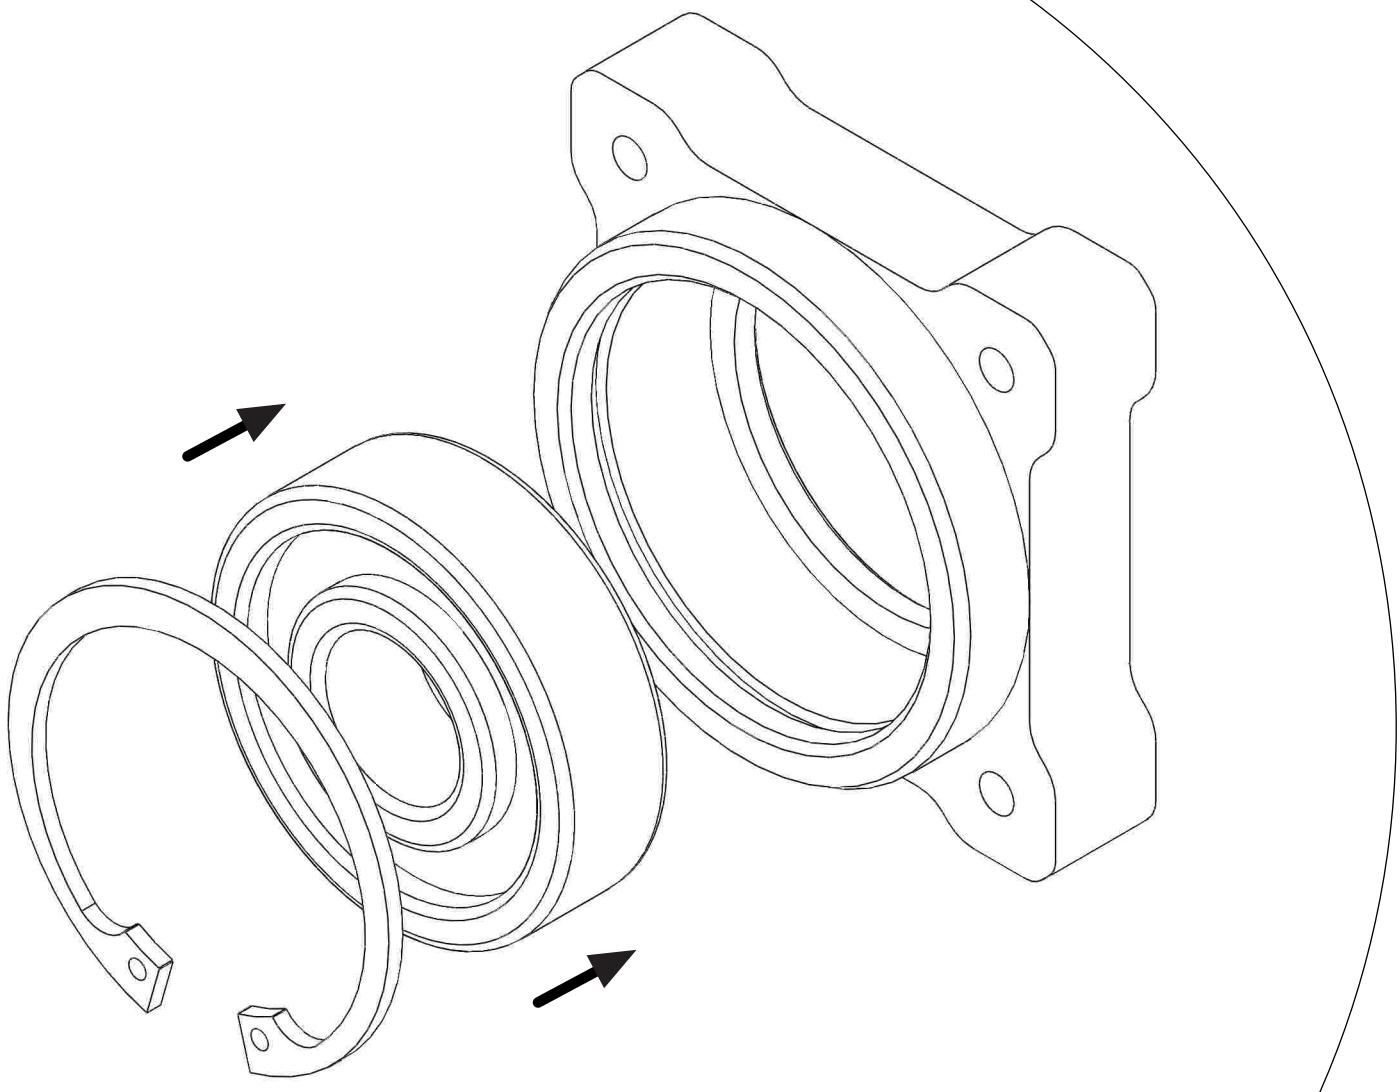

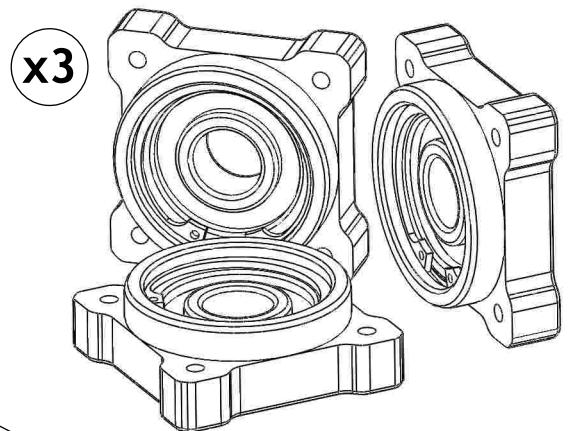

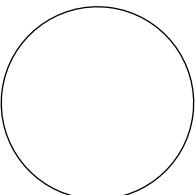

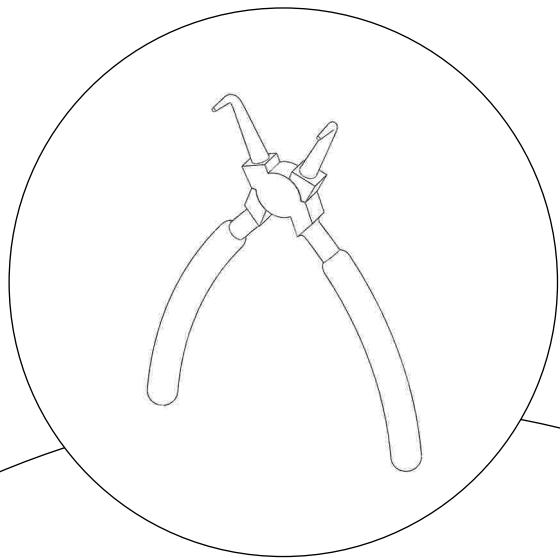

In case a Client considers that the acquired product is defective he/she must contact Thecorpora at this address indicating the defects found. The Client will receive the authorization number needed for returning the product. The reception of goods will only take place if the Client has the authorization code. Once the merchandise has been checked, Thecorpora will verify that, indeed, the product is in a defective state, in which case it will admit the return of the product for its repair. Thecorpora will replace or repair defective products free of charge. The Client will only be charged for the first shipment. Thecorpora will take care of the shipping expenses of the return and the new shipment. Should there be any evidence of the product having been forced or improperly altered the guarantee will be revoked. Thecorpora guarantees that the repaired or replaced product will be free of defects in the materials and the manufacturing for the remaining time of the original guarantee.
